NOTICE OF POSSIBLE PUBLIC EXPOSURE TO COVID-19

Vancouver Coastal Health has advised of possible public exposure to COVID-19 at the Lions Bay Beach Park during daytime hours on the following dates: July 26, 27, 29, 30 and 31. See: <http://www.vch.ca/covid-19/public-exposures>.

The possible exposures listed on this webpage, including the Lions Bay Beach Park, are believed to be low risk and Public Health officials will follow up on all known contact information but, out of an abundance of caution, they ask that anyone who may have visited the beach park on the specified dates and times to monitor themselves for symptoms.

There is no known risk to anyone who attended outside of the specified dates and times. If people remain healthy and do not develop any symptoms, there is no need to self-isolate and people can continue with their usual daily activities. If you develop any symptoms of COVID-19, please seek testing and then self-isolate and follow the rest of the advice on the VCH webpage.

Many of you are aware of this information already and of affected local residents. It is important for everyone to remember the keys to safer social interactions during this pandemic.

Limit your social group to 5 – 10 people outside of your household members, maintain a safe distance (2 metres) from those outside your household or social group, wash your hands often and don't touch your face. If you have young children, follow the Information for parents and families about using playgrounds during COVID-19. And if you're a young adult, check out Dr. Bonnie Henry's Good Times Guide. Spread fun – not COVID-19.

Be kind. Be calm. Be safe.
